DEQ EnviroSchool offers Permits 101: Understanding the Basics Workshop

BATON ROUGE – In May, the EnviroSchool program of the Louisiana Department of Environmental Quality is offering free workshops on Permits 101: Understanding the Basics. This workshop will give participants an understanding of what permits are, the different types of permits and the permitting process within each media – air, water and waste.

The workshops are as follows:

Baton Rouge, Wednesday, May 2

10 a.m. to 12 p.m.

DEQ HQ- Galvez Building, Oliver Pollock Room

602 N. 5th Street

New Orleans, Thursday, May 10

10 a.m. to 12 p.m.

2nd floor Council Chambers

1221 Elmwood Park Blvd

Lake Charles, Thursday, May 17

10 a.m. to 12 p.m.

LSU Ag Center

7101 Gulf Highway

Alexandria, Tuesday, May 22

10 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Main Street Community Center

708 Main Street, Pineville

The EnviroSchool Program provides training for communities, businesses and other organizations on many regulatory topics. The goal of the program is to inform the public about the environmental regulatory process in Louisiana and to help improve compliance. Registration for any of the sessions is available online at
