

EPA's national Clean Diesel Rebate program – There is still time to apply

The 2017 School Bus Replacement and Retrofit Program is underway and there is still time to apply for the rebates. The U. S. Environmental Protection Agency has reserved approximately $7 million for school bus rebates to improve public health.

Rebate options include replacing older buses with new buses or retrofitting older buses. These options can reduce emissions. EPA began accepting applications on Sept. 28 but will accept applications through Nov. 14 at 4 p.m. eastern time.
